Overall gross profit margin was approximately 25.3%, compared to 26.4% for the corresponding period in last year. The gross profit margin of CNC machine tools (the Group's major product) during the period under review maintained at approximately 30.0%. Moreover, the gross profit margin of the forklift trucks during the period under review decreased as compared to last year. As a result, the overall gross profit margin for the period under review decreased slightly.

Other income

During the period under review, other income increased by approximately 97.9% to approximately RMB13.45 million. During the period under review, RMB appreciated by about 2.3% against USD/HKD. The exchange gain derived from bank borrowings of the Group (mainly denominated in USD/HKD) was accordingly increased by approximately RMB3 million. Moreover, interest rates of RMB deposits in China had been increasing during the period under review. As a result, interest income of the Group was also increased by approximately RMB1.37 million.

Distribution and selling expenses

Distribution and selling expenses increased by approximately 52.0% to approximately RMB73.77 million for the six months ended 30 June 2011. Such increase was mainly due to the increase in sales revenue of the Group's major product CNC machine tools during the period under review. The relevant expenditures including costs of sales staff, transportation costs therefore increased accordingly. During the period under review, distribution and selling expenses as a percentage of the Group's revenue was approximately 7.8%, compared to 8.3% for the corresponding period in last year.

Administrative expenses

As compared to the corresponding period in last year, administrative expenses increased by approximately 112.8% to approximately RMB52.06 million for the period under review. Included in the administrative expenses for the period under review were those research and development expenses amounted to approximately RMB28.75 million. (2010 comparative figures: RMB10.27 million). Such increase of the research and development expenses was in line with the increase of the sales revenue of CNC machine tools (the Group's major product) during the period under review. Moreover, the Group also added relevant administrative expenses in relation to the Rambaudi business (acquired in June 2010) in Italy amounting to approximately RMB5.26 million during the period under review.

Despite that, general administrative expenses increased by approximately 27.2%. This was mainly attributable to the increase of the depreciation charges and the staff costs etc. deriving from the Group's operation in the mainland China.

Finance costs

During the period under review, finance costs increased to approximately RMB3.31 million. The increase was primarily due to the increase of average bank borrowings of the Group during the period under review.

Profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company

For the six months ended 30 June 2011, profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company amounted to approximately RMB102.72 million, representing an increase of approximately 46.5% as compared to the same period last year.

Business review

During the first half of 2011, sales volume of CNC machine tools, parking garage structures and forklift trucks amounted to 1,865 units, 2,794 units and 2,299 units respectively (2010 comparative figures : 1,077 units, 3,076 units and 894 units). More than 80% of the Group's revenue was generated from the mainstream product CNC machine tools. CNC machine tools focus mainly in China market, with the major customers of the product being those automobile parts and mechanical manufacturers. During the first half of 2011, notwithstanding the adequately tightening monetary policy implemented by the China Government, the economy of China has maintained a relatively high growth. The gross domestic product (GDP) of the mainland China reached RMB20.4 trillion for the first half of 2011, representing a growth of 9.6% over that for the corresponding period in 2010. The fixed assets investments of China also reached RMB12.5 trillion for the first half of 2011, representing a growth of 25.6% over the corresponding period in 2010. Sales orders for the Group's CNC machine tools business also recorded remarkable growth. For the six months ended 30 June 2011, sales volume and sales revenue of CNC machine tools amounted to 1,865 units and approximately RMB769.84 million respectively, representing encouraging growth when compared to corresponding period in 2010. During the period under review, the Group also recorded revenue of approximately RMB67.15 million for its double column machining centre, whilst selling price of such product is approximately 2 times or more the average selling price of the Group's CNC machine tools products. On the other hand, driven by robust demand in China market, sales revenue of the Group's forklift trucks business also recorded significant growth of 122.8% during the period under review. Accordingly the proportion of the domestic sales of the forklift trucks was increased to 61%.

Moreover, for the seven months ended 31 July 2011, the Group received sales orders from customers of 3,156 units in respect of its CNC machine tools business, amounting to approximately RMB1,578.37 million (including tax). This is a testimonial to the good acceptance of the Group's products by the customers. In order to meet the robust demand from the customers, the Group's phase one production base in Jiangdong, Hangzhou (owned by Hangzhou Glory Friend Machinery Technology Co., Ltd) has already commenced production since May 2011. With such solid backup, the Group could therefore further expand its production capacity in respect of its CNC machine tools business.

Prospects

The risk of further volatility in the global economy still remains. In respect of the economy of China, the China Government is trying to strike balance amongst growth, inflation and economic transition. Provided that the inflation in China could be under control in the last quarter of 2011, those austerity measures will then be loosened which will further facilitate the capital investment. On the other hand, due to increasing labor shortage in China, manufacturers are prompted to use more automatic equipment such as CNC machines, which will promote continuous growth of the Group's CNC machine tools business. China is the largest machine tools consuming country. The Group will continue to expand its production capacity and enhance its production efficiency, as well as strengthen the research and development capabilities of its CNC machine tools products, in order to meet the robust demand from the domestic market and provide high quality CNC machine tools to the customers.

Looking forward, the Group will continue to participate actively in machine tools fairs in China, and enhance the promotion of the Group's CNC machine tools products so as to solidify the Group's market share in China. On the other hand, the management will continue to looking for appropriate investing and acquisition activities so as to increase the competitive edge of our Group. The Group is committed to becoming an international CNC machine tools manufacturer. The management believes that with its extensive sales network, advanced technology and manufacturing facilities as well as brand effect, the Group is capable of meeting customers' different needs. The management therefore has optimistic outlook for the future growth of the Group and will strive to bringing favorable returns to the shareholders of the Company.

Liquidity and financial resources

The working capital of the Group was mainly financed by internal cash flows generated from its operation and its existing banking facilities. As at 30 June 2011, the Group's cash and cash equivalents amounted to approximately RMB121.42 million (at 31 December 2010: RMB161.05 million). As at 30 June 2011, the Group had current assets of approximately RMB341.46 million (at 31 December 2010: RMB318.50 million) and short-term bank borrowings of approximately RMB252.02 million (at 31 December 2010: RMB169.18 million).
